

Report of Operative G T Purdy

Sept. 11th, 1926

RE: JANE GIBSON

Operative went to Bayonne, N.J. at 9 A.M. to keep an appointment with Detective Rigney, who is in charge of the Criminal Identification Bureau.

At 9:15 A.M. Mr. Rigney came in and went through his records and gave me the following record of Andrew Leitner who is a brother of Mrs. Gibson:

Andrew Leitner, alias "Skid", Photo Gallery Picture #831
age 8-13-20 38 years, born Hoboken, N.J.
10-12-19 arrested by Lieutenant Noonan and Acting Detec. Clark.
charge robbery and on 11-13-19 found guilty of assault and battery, placed on probation to pay costs. Judge Doherty.

8-13-20 Arrested by Acting Det. Keldroff, charge grand larceny stealing a magneto from auto of Charles Bailey (colored) automobile at 27 East 1st Street.

10-10-21 tried Special Sessions found not guilty Dis. Judge Doherty.

Detective Rigney informs me that he has never had any record of an arrest of Mary Eisleitner or the Pig Woman and he has no record of an arrest of the Williams woman, who is known as "Madame Netty" and used to tell fortunes at one time. Mrs. Williams husband, from whom she is separated, was known as "black hand Williams" and Mr. Rigney knows him well. He doesn't know his present whereabouts. Mr. Rigney made a careful search through his records but could find nothing further about this family. He knows Mrs. Cerenna and stated that she lived in Bayonne at one time. He met her on several occasions and he believes she is a decent type of person and hard working.

Operative returned to New York and reported to Mr. Pfeiffer's office and after submitting reports returned to New Jersey. Went to Hoboken Police Headquarters for the record which Capt. Garrick is looking up, but he stated he had been busy and has not had the chance to date, but promised to do so.
